Economic Unity Seen As Only Hope In Europe

Marshall Plan Aid Has Little Effect

By FRANK O'BRIEN

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 25 (AP)—Criticism that Marshall plan aid is producing little permanent effect on Europe's economy marked the wind-up of the European consultative assembly's economic debate yesterday.

Conservatives, socialists and middle-roads predicted without contradiction that Europe is in for economic chaos, social upheavals and even war if she cannot achieve economic unity before the recovery program ends in 1952.

Statements that little long-range constructive work is being done under the Marshall plan were not disputed.

American aid has been commended in the assembly as generous and wise, but some speakers blamed the nations receiving aid for not taking adequate measures to speed their own recovery and for not submerging national differences in behalf of Europe's welfare.

A resolution introduced by Winston Churchill's European Movement asserted that "unless immediate steps are taken to promote a European economic union there must inevitably be a European economic collapse, involving a catastrophic decline in the standard of living of the European peoples and social disturbances endangering their democratic way of life."

Another resolution proposed by French Socialist Andre Philly said the economic unification of Europe is the only way of avoiding "a social crisis of extreme gravity."

British laborites, however, advised a go-slow policy. They said an economic union, stripping tariff protection from some industries, would create wide-spread unemployment.

New Jap Typewriter Has 1132 Characters

Tokyo, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Japanese brought out a new simplified typewriter today. It's got only 1,132 characters.

That sounds like a lot of characters to an American typist. He only has to concentrate on 56 or 57. But consider the Japanese. The old style typewriter has 3,125 characters.

The makers of the new model simply weeded out some of the old, ponderous Chinese characters and substituted simpler, fewer Japanese phonetic characters.

Also the new model works something like a typewriter. The old one operated like a wheezing linotype with a hanger.

Veteran D&C Skipper Stricken In Detroit

Detroit (AP)—Salem O. Robinson, 89, who mastered D. & C. Navigation Company ships over 40 years of service, died Wednesday. His ships were "City of New York," "City of the Straits," "City of St. Ignace," "City of Mackinac," "City of Alpena," "Western States," "City of Detroit II" and "City of Detroit III."

Wind Shifts And Rain Check Forest Blazes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battle against fires ravaging North American forests took a favorable turn today.

Rain and diminishing winds aided the fire fighters.

The situation is still serious, however, in many areas. Flames have wiped out valuable timber in Western United States, New England and Canada.

One person was killed and four injured yesterday in California's forest fires. Harry T. Meyer, 32-year-old lumber crewman, was killed by a falling tree in Stanislaus national forest where flames have blackened more than 7,100 acres.

Fire fighters in Idaho's national forest still were running into trouble. One of four major blazes in Payette national forest broke loose yesterday and ran over an estimated 6,000 acres.

The total Payette fire area spread to 24,000 acres. An additional 125 men were being added to the 1,700 attempting to check the flames. Two of the main fires were under control.

The outlook in the Black Hills of South Dakota was promising. Rangers looked for favorable winds to blow the flames back over burned out areas. An estimated 5,000 acres of timberland and 10,000 acres of grassland were hit.

Backfires saved Telford, a South Dakota village of 100 population, from destruction yesterday.

About a dozen forest fires still were burning in New England but none was reported as serious.

Scattered showers fell over New England yesterday but there was not enough rain to alleviate the dangerous parched condition of the land.

In Canada, the Ontario department of lands and forests reported all that province's 151 fires were under control. No effective relief from the current dry spell was forecast, however.

Dixie's Rebels Are Warned To Get Into Step

States Rights Scrap Fires Burn Anew

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO and DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Truman put out the welcome mat for Southern party bolters today, but demanded that those who cross it get in step with the 1948 Democratic platform.

He delivered the invitation—strictly on his own terms—at a rousing dinner of the Democratic national committee a few hours after it had read five southern State's Rights members from high command.

And leaving the door open to non-Truman Democrats in Congress to fall in line with the Truman program, the committee exempted them from the party purge.

Don't Like Program
The fires of revolt, however, already were burning anew. States' Rights announced they are opening Washington headquarters to spread the flames. The whole thing was sparked by southern dislike for Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

It was Truman the campaigner—swinging free style in the manner of his "give 'em hell" stump-ing of last year—who proclaimed his party of today "a national party, and not a sectional party any more."

"The tail no longer wags the dog," he said.

He went on to say that he won in 1948 without New York, "with-out the industrial east and without the solid south" and that he was "prouder of that than anything that has ever happened to me."

Then came the invitation: "And that doesn't mean that we are not inviting the industrial east and the solid south and all the rest of the country to join the

Pet Dog Aids Hunt For Lost Boy In Minnesota Swamp

McGregor, Minn., Aug. 25 (AP)—A whining dog helping in the hunt for missing three-year-old Larry Coleman led searchers today to a brush-lined creek in the swamp wilderness where he disappeared five days ago.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Knutson, owner of the Labrador retriever, said the dog picked up the trail near where the boy disappeared last Saturday and followed it to the creek.

Knutson said when his dog reached the water, he started to whine.

Heavy brush along the banks had precluded other than a casual search earlier, Hulin said.

One hundred National Guardsmen remained on duty today under the direction of Lt. Col. William Johnson. They will aid the search along the creek with a hope of finding some clue to the fate of the boy.

The Coleman family offered a $500 reward to anyone finding the boy dead or alive.

Plane Downs High Tension Wire; Two Bean Pickers Dead

Clare, Mich., Aug. 25 (AP)—Two youths crashed in a small plane today, downing a high tension wire that electrocuted two women.

Robert G. Chale, 24, of Colusa, Calif., and Glenn Davey, 19, of Weidman, Mich., cut the wire when they came down about four miles west of here.

The falling wire struck Mrs. Pearl M. Hall, 53, and her daughter, Lillian Hall, 20, as they picked beans in a field near their home. The women were killed instantly.

The plane was badly wrecked but Chale and Davey escaped with face and head cuts. They had rented the small cabin craft at City Airport here.

Nude Angler Fined; Carried No License

Lansing, Aug. 25 (AP)—Conservation officer Ray Walker had an open and shut case of an angler caught fishing without a license on his person.

Parker reported spotting an angler in the Carp river near St. Ignace who was nude—except for his glasses.

The violator pleaded guilty to fishing without a license on his person and paid a $12.60 justice court fine.

Reps. Bennett And Potter Ask Easing Of Business Loans

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) has introduced a measure to stimulate the conservation and exploration of strategic metals and minerals.

Pending in the Senate is a similar measure to shore up the sagging domestic mining industry.

Bennett and Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) joined in a move to make it easier for small businessmen in areas of serious unemployment to get loans from the reconstruction finance corp.

Bennett said he and Potter had prepared identical bills for introduction today to carry this out.

Bennett said the bills were based on the belief that "it is better to help going concerns now than to wait until relief has to be doled out to their unemployed workers."

The measures set $250,000 as the upper limit for any small business loan under their proposed liberalized terms.

Wisconsin Cow Falls Into Silo

Snoopy Stays Until New Corn Comes In

Oscoda, Wis., Aug. 25 (AP)—A young Wisconsin cow with a long record of misbehavior languished at the bottom of a partly filled silo here today.

Snoopy, 650 pound pet of 13 year old Cherine Lammpan, had to squeeze through an opening 20 inches wide and 30 inches high to get in. She was inspired at the time, however, since Cherine's father, Everett Lammpan, was in hot pursuit.

Lammpan caught the adventure-some heifer chomping her way through his best field of green corn. He chased her to the barn and locked the door, but Snoopy headed for what looked like an exit.

Farmer Lammpan heard a crash and popped inside just in time to see Snoopy disappear into the silo. Snoopy, unruffled and apparently unhurt by her 12-foot fall, got to her feet and munched last year's silage leftover. The entrance aperture is just about ground level.

Neighbors gathered at the farm, three and a half miles east of here, and decided the only way to get Snoopy out is to fill up the silo.

Lammpan juggled his farming timetable and decided to start cutting his corn crop this weekend.

Then the silo will be filled and Snoopy can walk—or be pushed—to freedom.

Someone suggested that the frisky heifer might enjoy her imprisonment, with tons of corn pouring in. But Lammpan has that problem licked. He'll muzzle Snoopy and give her just feed and water till the job is done.

Capac Man Shot While Taking Pictures Of Virginia Park Scenes

St. Charles, Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Charles Lincoln of Capac, Mich., was shot and wounded Tuesday after he got out of his car to snap a color photograph of scenery in Cumberland National Park.

His two children, a daughter, 7, and a son, 5 who were with him, were not hit.

Police yesterday arrested Mrs. Gladys Williams, 40, on a charge of wounding Lincoln in the eye, forehead, hand and side.

Mrs. Williams told police "me and my daughters were on the porch of our home."

"Bessie said someone was throwing rocks down the hill at us. I grabbed one shotgun and blasted at him. I didn't mean to hit the man, just shot to scare."

Lincoln, a high school coach, was treated at a hospital. He said the shotgun blast came without warning as he paused on a hillside.

Convicted Forger Commits Suicide In Lansing Hotel

Lansing, Aug. 25 (AP)—Roger M. Wills, 42, a former state employee found guilty of forgery, committed suicide in a downtown hotel here yesterday.

Coroner Ray Gorsline termed the death a suicide. Dr. Charles E. Black, local pathologist, said death came from cyanide poisoning.

Several cyanide pills and farewell notes were found in the room.

Wills, an employee of the state salvage division, was found guilty of forging a state check for $113. He made restitution of the amount and was sentenced to two months probation and $200 costs.

Annual Junket Season Starts In Washington

Congressmen Squirm From Shots In Arm

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Sore arms were a dime a dozen today in the House of Representatives as the annual season approached for excursions on an expense account.

They are caused by medical shots taken to immunize Congressmen from any and all diseases to which they may be exposed while traveling on "official business" during the next few months in foreign climes.

From all indications, this will be a bumper year for such House junkets despite earlier declarations by House leaders that foreign travel by members would be held to essential business.

One veteran House member who hasn't missed a foreign trip in years predicted that about half the members will be out of the country before the end of the year.

"You can tell who's going by grabbing arms," he said. "The ones who scream have been inoculated and are figuring on trips."

At Taxpayers Expense
Technically, all the projected trips will be on official business and at the expense of the taxpayers.

Members making them insist they are all work and no play and are not junkets—or picnics.

The first will come Friday when a judiciary subcommittee sails on the Queen Mary for England and Europe to study population trends and immigration problems generally. The group will be gone about six weeks, returning late in September.

Other trips tentatively planned for later in the year include these: A commerce committee group to study medical programs in England, France, Norway and Sweden.

An armed services subcommittee to study military morale on the continent.

Still other trips are planned to Puerto Rico, Japan, farm areas of Europe, Panama and Mexico.

Broke Britain May Have To Cut Down On Free Doctoring

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

London, Aug. 25 (AP)—Britain may have to limit her social services if next month's monetary talks in Washington flop, according to an informant close to the labor government.

The informant, who refused to be identified, said labor leaders might have to start retrenchment by dropping the government's free medical services, if the dollar-pound talks fail.

Britain's social services, together with food subsidies, cost one quarter of the country's whole annual budget of $12,000,000,000. Britons now can call on doctors without paying fees under the 13-month-old national health service, though each pays up to six shillings, eight pence weekly ($1.33) to help support it.

If the Washington parley fails, the informant said, British leaders may have to consider having each person pay a shilling (20 cents) for each visit.

He explained that the calls on the service have far exceeded advance estimates and, if Britain might tighten her belt, she cannot go on spending so much on the service out of general taxation.

The informant said the government expects its gold and dollar reserves to sag more than one fourth by Sept. 30—down to $1,200,000,000.

At the end of June Britain was down to her last $1,624,000,000. The treasury's goal had been to keep the reserves at a "safe" margin of $2,000,000,000.

The informant said Britain's balance-of-payments position for the current quarter looks "very grim" despite rigid import cuts.

He predicted that new cuts in British dollar spending on food, tobacco and other items would be bound to follow failure of the Washington talks to solve Britain's growing dollar crisis.

Governor Asked To Oust Sheriff Of Lake County

Lansing, Aug. 25 (AP)—Testimony in a move to oust Lake County Sheriff Edward A. Engel has reached Governor Williams' desk.

A summary and detailed testimony taken at a probate court hearing were submitted today to the governor by Attorney General Stephen J. Roth.

Lawrence L. Farrell, Williams' executive secretary, said the governor would study the testimony and announce later whether he will remove the sheriff.

Engel was accused of various acts of misfeasance and malfeasance, largely involving enforcement of conservation laws.

Soo Firm Low Bidder On Newberry Project

Lansing, Aug. 25 (AP)—Low bidders on two state construction projects were announced today by the state building division.

Kayser Construction Co. of Sault Ste. Marie submitted the low bid of $42,500 for fireproof stairwells in six cottages at the Newberry State hospital.

William Morris and son of Ionia submitted the low bid of $37,343 for a new pasturizing plant and elevator at the Ionia State hospital.

Military Economy Cut Puts Squeeze On Congressmen

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Members of Congress found themselves squeezed today between a military economy drive many of them had demanded and the outraged cries of constituents affected by the proposed cuts.

A typical example was offered by a western House member. He said he has been deluged up to now with letters urging him to vote for cuts in appropriations. Now, he said, the same people are complaining bitterly against military cutbacks in his district.

The predicament resulted from Secretary of Defense Johnson's announcement yesterday that the armed forces plan to fire 135,000 of their 905,000 civilian employees, while returning 12,073 reserve officers from active to inactive status.

That program aims at a $200,000,000 saving during the fiscal year which started July 1, and savings of $500,000,000 a year thereafter. It would help bring next year's military budget down to $13,400,000,000. The 1949 budget totals $14,900,000,000.

Johnson said the cuts are those proposed by the three armed services themselves. They will result in the closing of about 50 defense installations and the slimming down of a number of others.

Congressmen whose home districts are involved got the low-down from Johnson yesterday. Many of them complained bitterly. Others approved.

"It depends," said the western lawmaker wryly, "on whose ox is being gored."

Despite congressional protests, military officials were reported pushing ahead with plans for the cutdown.

As the first step, they were preparing to be used as a guide by unit commanders ordered to cut down reserve officer strength.

The citizens committee for the Hoover report greeted the economy move as a "strong and courageous step."

The committee is a private organization pressing for enactment of all the government reorganization plans proposed by the bipartisan commission which former President Herbert Hoover headed.

Wife Strangled In Nightmare

Grand Marais, Minn., Aug. 25. (AP)—The bodies of a vacationing Nebraskan who apparently hacked and strangled his wife to death during a nightmare and then took his own life with poison were being returned to Omaha today.

J. Henry Eliason, Cook county attorney, identified the victims as Lloyd N. Osborne, 58, an Omaha real estate man, and his 47-year-old wife, Helen.

Their bodies were found yesterday in the cabin of a resort 35 miles north of here along the Gunflint Trail, where the Osbornes had been vacationing with other members of the family since Friday.

In a note found near his body, Eliason said Osborne wrote:

"I must have had a nightmare. I didn't realize what I had done to Helen. This is the easy way out." The note ended in a scrawl as the as yet unidentified poison potion took effect.

Eliason gave this version of the double killing:

The Osborne couple discussed the case of Jake Bird, state of Washington axe slayer recently executed, after retiring Tuesday night. Later, Osborne got up, took a hatchet from the cabin woodbox and hit his wife in the head several times. Then he knotted his pajama bottoms about her neck.

A neighbor reported hearing a woman scream just shortly before 3 a. m. yesterday but went back to sleep when there was no further noise. David Osborne, 19, a son, discovered the bodies when maids seeking to do up the cabin reported the door wouldn't open.

Winston Churchill, 74, Suffers From 'Chill'

Nice, France, Aug. 25 (AP)—Winston Churchill is suffering from a cold caught while taking a dip in the Mediterranean, his secretary said today.

Although earlier reports said the 74-year-old wartime prime minister was bed-ridden, they apparently stemmed from the fact that it was early in the morning and Churchill does not arise early.

Churchill had two serious pneumonia attacks during the war. In 1943, when he was 68, he came down with pneumonia during a wartime visit to Carthage, in North Africa. In August, 1944, he developed a severe case of pneumonia while returning to London by air from Italy. He arrived at Northolt Airport with a temperature of 103. He was back in action less than a month later.

Head Of C&NW On U. P. Tour

Scooter Discussed
By Pres. Williams

HEAD OF C&NW Y—TH6 n of Iron Mountain, Mich. — Within the near future—shortly after he returns to his office from his present tour—R. L. Williams, president of the Chicago and North Western railway, will direct a letter to H. F. Early, president, and Walt Schrader, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce, explaining in detail why the North Western has petitioned the Michigan public service commission for permission to cancel its branch-line "scooter," running from Iron River to Escanaba and connecting with the streamliner "4000" at Powers.

VISITS ESCANABA

President Williams and his party of C&NW railway officials left Escanaba at 10 a. m. today after a brief inspection of operations here.

This assurance was given personally Tuesday night by President Williams to Early and Schrader during a brief conference in the private car, at Antoine siding, in which the president and other officers of the road arrived here on a tour of inspection. The officers left again at 8 Wednesday morning for Escanaba, and will return this week to Chicago.

Besides President Williams, the officers on the tour are: J. E. Goodwin and C. H. Longman, of Chicago, vice - presidents of North Western; E. C. Vandenberg, chief engineer, Chicago; G. W. Bohannon, chief mechanical officer, Chicago; T. M. Cassidy, superintendent of the Peninsula Division, Escanaba, and B. G. Packard, division engineer, Escanaba.

Early and Schrader were met at the car by Robert Stewart, secretary with the party, and the interview was quickly arranged. "We were granted every courtesy," Schrader reported, "and President Williams briefly reviewed the situation as affecting the branch-line train from Iron River to Escanaba. He admitted its deficiencies, and outlined a few of the reasons why the road has not been able to improve the service.

Rita And Aly Expect Infant In February

Henry Wurth, 86, Retired Railroad Worker, Dies Here

Henry Wurth, 86, retired car repairer for the Chicago and North Western railway, died at 3 a. m. today at his home, 1201 Stephen avenue. He had been suffering from a heart ailment for many years and for the past four weeks was confined to bed.

Henry Wurth was born Jan. 10, 1863 in Luxemburg, Europe, and came to Escanaba 47 years ago. He was a member of St. Thomas the Apostle church.

Surviving are a son, Peter J. Wurth of Escanaba; a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Rudolph of 215 North 20th street; five grandchildren, Ernest Rudolph Jr., of Escanaba, Mrs. B. H. Stadelman, of Gladstone, Mrs. John Baum of Milwaukee, Mrs. Robert Sjoquist and Robert Wurth of Escanaba; and three nieces and three nephews.

Mrs. Wurth died in July 1903 and had a daughter Anna in 1911. The body was removed to Allo Funeral Home and will lie in state there at 2 p. m. Friday. Funeral services will be held from St. Joseph church at 9 a. m. Saturday with the Rev. Fr. Arnold Thompson officiating. Burial will be made in Holy Cross cemetery.

Plans For Fish Contest Made

Junior Anglers Try Luck Saturday

Arrangements for the Better Fishing Contest for boys and girls ages 4 to 16, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which takes place this Saturday at Ludington Park, have now been completed. Chairman W. R. Dixon has appointed the following committee to assist him: George Grenholm, Lency Clairmont, Cliff Fraser, Orville Isen and Tony Flynn. In addition to the above committee, two judges will be appointed.

Rules and regulations governing the contest are as follows: The contest shall be conducted on August 27, along with all of their Better Fishing Contests nationally. It will open at 7 a. m. Saturday and will close officially at 4 p. m. at which time all entries in the contest must be turned in. Entries can be turned in starting at 2 p. m. on Saturday afternoon at the beach house in Ludington Park. Fishing in the contest will only be permitted from the municipal dock at the foot of Ludington street to the end of Ludington Park, Lake Shore and the foot of 10th. Because of the danger involved, fishing must be from the dock and the shore and no fishing from boats will be permitted unless the boat is securely tied to the dock.

Judging of the catches will take place from 4 to 4:30 p. m. and prizes will be given to each boy and girl who catches the biggest quantity of fish that is, weight in pounds. The champion boy and girl fisherman will each receive a complete casting outfit donated by Better Fishing Incorporated which consists of a casting rod, reel, two lines, fish hooks, plugs, leaders, and spoons with a value of approximately $20.

The contest will be supervised and the area where the fishing takes place will be patrolled. All boys and girls, ages 4 to 16, are eligible to participate in this contest. The first 12 contestants turning in their catches after 2 p. m. will be awarded a special prize of a fishing line and bobber.

Dutch Government Pardons 3 Americans For Arms Smuggling

Batavia, Java, Aug. 25 (P)—The Dutch high commissioner today pardoned three American fliers convicted last January by a Netherlands court on charges of running guns into Indonesia, a U. S. consulate spokesman said.

Freed were Albert W. Onstott, Yuba City, Calif.; Connie W. Selgrist, Vian, Okla., and William Hallam, Portland, Ore. They had been sentenced to prison terms ranging from 18 months to four years.

The three men were picked up in Indonesian waters last September with a Catalina flying boat loaded with small arms and ammunition. They contended they thought the equipment they were delivering was for Malayan planters fighting Communists and not for Indonesian Republicans fighting the Dutch.

Mystery Woman Slain In Michigan Traced To Danielson, Conn.

Danielson, Conn., Aug. 25 (P)—Connecticut state police were having little success today trying to trace the movements of Mrs. Rose F. Trahan, 47, of Danielson in the days before she was found slain Aug. 16 near Monroe, Mich.

Officers believe she was slugged and thrown in a water-filled culvert to drown. Although her body was discovered more than a week ago, she was identified only yesterday through FBI fingerprints made when she applied for a Connecticut war plant job in 1942.

So far all efforts to learn how and why she went to Michigan have been fruitless.

Sgt. Robert Hays, acting commander of the Danielson barracks of the Connecticut state police, said Mrs. Trahan, a divorcee, "was pretty near a woman of mystery, even to her family."

Johnson Killed In Plane Crash

Was Seney Refuge Chief For Years

Clarence S. Johnson, former manager of the Seney migratory waterfowl refuge at Germfask, was killed in an airplane accident near Minot, N. Dak., yesterday, according to word received by relatives in Manistique and Iron River. Johnson was believed to have been engaged in forest fire fighting when the accident occurred. He was recently transferred from Germfask to serve as manager of the Souris wildlife refuge, with headquarters at Minot. He managed the Seney refuge since its inception.

His son, Clarence of Manistique, left last night for Minot.

Johnson was a native of Iron River and a graduate of Michigan State College.

He is survived by his widow, one son and four daughters.

Neil Jensen Of South Ford River Dies This Morning

Neil C. Jensen, 66, of South Ford River, died at 8:45 this morning at Iron Mountain General hospital which he entered six days ago for surgery. He had been in poor health for some time.

Mr. Jensen was born in Denmark December 2, 1882, and had lived here for over 40 years. He was a farmer in the South Ford River community. His wife died November 29 of last year. He attended Immanuel Lutheran church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Rufus Spaulding of Garden, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Grover Jensen of Escanaba, and several nieces and nephews.

The body was brought here to the Anderson funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete but services probably will be held Saturday afternoon.

Five G. A. R. Veterans Parade For Television At Indianapolis, Ind.

Indianapolis, Aug. 25 (P)—The Grand Army of the Republic has won a preliminary skirmish in its final campaign.

It will march triumphantly three-fourths of the way around Monument Circle next Wednesday—in order that station WFBM-TV may televise its parade.

The last survivors of the boys in blue are to hold their 83rd and final encampment here next week. The old soldiers—five centenarians are expected to ride in the parade—wanted to have their parade televised.

Custom limits parades to one quarter of Monument Circle. The Indianapolis board of safety stoutly—only one quarter for the G. A. R.

The Grand Army was ready to retreat when a powerful task force—Mayor Al Feeney—outflanked the board.

"The G. A. R. can march around Monument Circle 10 times if it wants to," the mayor said.

The board announced its position and surrendered unconditionally.

The parade will be three quarters, and television.

Commission Hears Hauling Requests

The Michigan Public Service commission conducted hearings in Escanaba at the courthouse today to hear requests for hauling permits from 17 Upper Michigan concerns.

Applicants were requesting authority to haul sand, gravel, stone, crushed limestone, pebbles, cinders and other construction material, and forest products, in a 75-mile radius from their home terminals.

The public service commission conducted similar hearings at Houghton on Aug. 23. The commission was scheduled to hear a request from the Clairmont Transfer company of Escanaba to haul general commodities between Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie, Gould City and Garnet, and Rudyard and between other Upper Michigan points at the courthouse tomorrow morning, but Archie Freeman, manager of the company, said today that he is withdrawing the request.

County To Buy Gravel Crusher

Officials To Look At Plants In Iowa

Members of the Delta county road commission and two foremen left by plane today for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where they will visit gravel crusher plants to gain information on which to base the purchase of a new crusher for the road commission.

In the party, which will tour plants producing the Cedar Rapids and Universal crushers, were William Karas, superintendent-engineer of the road commission; Harry Greene of Garden, commission chairman; Commissioners Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone and Elmer Klassell of Escanaba; George Peterson, general foreman, and Nick Thennes, district foreman of the Garden garage. The men will inspect the factories and manufacturing processes. They will return tonight.

The two Cedar Rapids plants were low bidders on furnishing a small portable crusher to the road commission. A special meeting was held last night to consider the various bids.

Eight bids were offered the road commission on the crusher. They are as follows:

H. J. Yelland, Escanaba, $21,580, F. O. B. Milwaukee.

Straits Engineering, Cedar Rapids, $20,124, delivered.

Bark River Culvert and Bridge, $20,161, F. O. B. Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Brebnor Machine Co. $20,648.50 and $28,535.50, F. O. B. Minneapolis.

W. B. Thompson Co., Iron Mountain, $21,671, F. O. B. Milwaukee.

Pioneer Engineering, $21,593 and $28,004 F. O. B. Minneapolis.

Prior to the war the county road commission operated three crushers. These were requisitioned by the Army in 1943 and were sent to the Alcan highway project.

In 1947 the road commission bought a new crusher, but this is not sufficient to meet the demands for the 600 miles of gravel roads in the county. All county roads are now in dire need of graveling, Superintendent Karas reports.

Townships of Delta County approached the road commission offering to pay for the operating costs of the new crusher, if the county would make the purchase. Funds for the new crusher are not available, but payment will not be party of the people, and help the country go forward. That is exactly what we want, and that is exactly what we are going to accomplish in the next two years."

At the same time, he praised the national committee, which elevated William M. Boyle, Jr., former Kansas city police official, to the chairmanship and purged the five southern States' Righters from its rolls for deserting the Truman ticket last year.

"I am overwhelmed at the way the situation has worked out," Mr. Truman said. "I don't think the Democratic party in the history of the nation has ever been in better condition to carry the battle to the foe."

Diners Whoop It Up

He invited "all those people who are interested in the welfare of this great republic of ours, who are interested in the peace of the world, for which we are striving, to get into the Democratic party and go forward with it."

The hundreds of diners whooped it up, campaign year style, when the orchestra played, "I'm Just Wild About Harry."

"I'd like for that to go on," he grinned as he quieted the crowd, "but this is not a nominating convention."

Meanwhile, Boyle, who took over from J. Howard McGrath, the new attorney general, said he plans to purge of non-Truman Democratic congressmen.

support, Boyle said it is up to the people to elect the right kind of men to Congress.

"I certainly don't intend to enter any primary fights in any states," he said.

But, he added, he and the party intend and expect to elect more members of Congress next year who will back the Truman program.

The committee applied the boot to Marion Rushton of Alabama, William H. Talbot of Louisiana, J. B. Snider and Mrs. Hermes Gautier of Mississippi and Mrs. Anne A. Agnew of South Carolina, for bolting last year to the States' Rights presidential ticket of J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi.

Snider and Mrs. Gautier promptly turned up at a news conference at which the States' Righters announced they are opening Washington headquarters and starting a nation-wide campaign for states' rights.

Leander Perez of New Orleans, in charge of the office, said States' Righters expect to set up committees in all states and try to elect governors, senators and congressmen who see eye to eye with them.

Los Angeles, Aug. 25 (P)—Don Clark, Marine reserve flier, Denver, Colo., was flying over the ocean near Catalina Island when he radioed his base: "Call my wife. Tell her I'll be late for chow."

Minutes later the engine of his Corsair plane conked out and he crashed into the ocean as he had anticipated. A fishing boat picked him up wet but unhurt.

3 Stage Hits Booked Here

Lions Club Sponsors New York Dramas

Three New York stage hits, each with a talented Broadway cast, will be presented in Escanaba in the 1949-50 season by the Civic Drama Guild of New York, in cooperation with the Escanaba Lions club.

The dramas to be presented here are "Peg O' My Heart" on October 27, "The Heiress" on January 28, and "Fair and Warmer" on May 14. Each of these plays has scored a tremendous hit on Broadway in recent years and has played long runs in other metropolitan centers.

Distinguished New York casts will be presented in each of these dramas, to be staged at the Escanaba Junior high school auditorium.

The Civic Drama Guild, a division of Drama Corporation of America, has been presenting drama festival series throughout the country for years, repeating year after year in many cities. This is the first series to be sponsored in Escanaba, however. Last year the company's three plays were "All My Sons," "But Not Goodbye" and "John Loves Mary."

A subscription campaign at which tickets for the entire series will be offered will be conducted in September by the Escanaba Lions club. Tickets assuring choice reserved seats for all three plays will be available at a price about equal to the cost of a single admission to the production on Broadway.

Escanaba will be the only city in the Upper Peninsula where the drama series will be presented. The closest communities to Escanaba where the plays will be presented are Green Bay and Traverse City.

Mrs. Mae Pyke, Former Resident Of London, Dies

Mrs. Emily Mae Pyke, 57, 2233 Lake Shore Drive, died at 10:50 p.m., Wednesday night at home.

The widow of Edward Pyke, Mrs. Pyke was born in Southall, Middlesex, England. She came to the United States in 1946, with her daughter, Mrs. Glen Moreau, an English war bride. She has made her home here with the Glen Moreaus since Mrs. Pyke was a member of the Central Methodist church, the Ladies' Aid of that church and the Four Corners club.

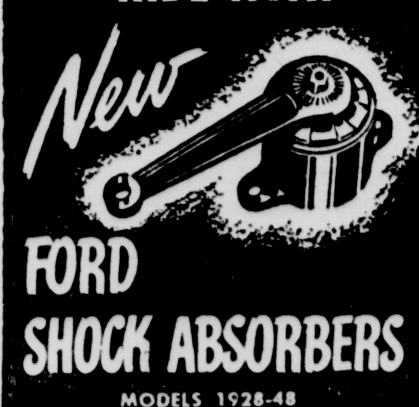

Mrs. Pyke leave her daughter and son-in-law, and a grandson, in Escanaba, five sisters and a brother, who live in England. Efforts are being made to locate her brother, Walter Brian of London, who is visiting in Detroit. He is a representative of the Dunlop Tire company.

Funeral services are tentatively scheduled for 2 p.m., Saturday, with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be made in Gardens of Rest cemetery. The body will lie in state at Anderson funeral home after 4 p.m., Friday and will be taken to the Central Methodist church at noon Saturday.

Bowers Resigns As Head Of Rapid River Schools

Rapid River, Mich.—R. P. Bowers submitted his resignation as superintendent of the Masonville-Ensign-Bay de Noc rural agricultural school district at a special meeting of the board of education Wednesday evening. He is leaving Rapid River to become superintendent of the Bellevue public schools, a position held the past three years by C. P. Titus, former Delta county school commissioner.

The board of education accepted Mr. Bowers' resignation with regrets. Mrs. Murray Cole, president of the board, said a successor has not been chosen as yet. Applications are now being received.

Mr. Bowers received his bachelor of arts degree at Grinnell college and his master's from the University of Michigan. He also has done special work at the University of Iowa, University of Chicago and Northern Michigan College of Education.

After teaching eight years at Iowa Wesleyan college in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Mr. Bowers accepted a position as director of music of the Escanaba city schools, where he remained for 16 years. He has been active in musical circles, and for 10 years served as director of the Orpheus Choral club of Escanaba.

During his administration at Rapid River, a successful campaign was carried out to reorganize the schools of Masonville, Ensign and Bay de Noc townships into a single rural agricultural school district.

At Bellevue he will have charge of a rural agricultural school system that was a merger of several rural districts with an enrollment of about 900 students and a faculty of 33. Bellevue, a community of 1200, is located in Eaton county, 18 miles from Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers will leave for Bellevue on Monday. They have two sons, Bob, who is attending the University of Michigan law school, and Dick, who is doing graduate work in chemistry at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Titus will become M. E. A. field representative in the Upper Peninsula, with headquarters in Gladstone.

Stephenson School Hires Bus Drivers
Stephenson—The board of education has hired all of the school bus drivers who operated last year. Mike Grinsteiner will be the bus foreman and driver. Kenneth Parrett will act as a custodian and driver. Other drivers will be as follows: James Szabo, Weldon Ford, Richard Hood, and Alvin Thompson.

All bus routes will be the same as last year. Parents should call the school office or inform the bus driver of any suggested changes.

McGregor Gets 25-Year Term

Jackson Sentences Hitchhiking Slayer

Crystal Falls, Mich.—Robert McGregor, found guilty of second degree murder in the hitchhike slaying of Emil A. Nordbeck of West Allis, was sentenced Wednesday to serve 25 years to life. Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson ordered the term in the Marquette (Mich.) state prison.

McGregor, a 17 year old Oconto county youth, is a parolee from the Wisconsin state school for boys at Waukesha. He had pleaded guilty to murder but left it up to the court to decide the degree of the offense. Judge Jackson ruled the crime second degree murder Tuesday.

Nordbeck, 43, lived at 2259 S. 66th street, West Allis. His bullet pierced body was found in his car on the shoulder of highway 141, eight miles west of Oconto July 23. He had been driving from Sheboygan, where he was controller of a chair manufacturing firm, to visit his family at Dollar Bay, Mich.

Judge Jackson said to McGregor Tuesday: "I have found no evidence that you cruelly planned and schemed the murder or any felony out of which the murder grew. I cannot, therefore find you guilty of murder in the first degree."

(Judge Jackson said that under Michigan law a definite plan to kill must be proved to establish first degree murder. The Wisconsin supreme court has held that "premeditation" means only that the killer must will the killing. The time interval between decision to kill and the killing may be only a moment.)

Judge Jackson said there was no evidence to indicate that the crime was committed in the heat of passion nor that there was provocation. That, he said ruled out manslaughter.

No question of self-defense—justifiable homicide—was raised, he said. The only remaining possibility, he said, was murder in the second degree.

Doughton Says No Excise Tax Cut

WIDESPREAD hopes for a reduction in the wartime excise tax rates were jolted this week by a statement issued by Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee that a reduction in these rates will not be possible this year.

Doughton's statement was issued in the hope that it would discourage consumers from purchasing goods now subject to the tax. Postponement of such purchases have been reported by retailers throughout the country.

Many of these taxes, such as the levies on telephone services and transportation tickets, are particularly burdensome. The taxes were levied in wartime to raise funds for carrying on the war and also to check the terrific upsurge in the use of these services at a time when supplies for expanding service were scarce.

Other wartime excise taxes, including the tax on furs, are serving as a depressing influence on industry. The sharp break in fur prices is a case in point. The same is true with jewelry and luggage.

The huge scope of federal spending has blocked efforts to bring about a reduction in these taxes this year. A federal deficit this year that may run as high as $5,000,000,000 has been predicted. It is argued that the government needs every dollar it can get through tax means to keep the deficit at the lowest possible level.

It certainly will be impractical, if not impossible, to keep the excise tax rates at the present excessive level. If they are not reduced this year, such a reduction will be imperative in 1950.

The obvious answer to the problem is a determination to lower the cost of government. Unfortunately, however, we are not moving in that direction. On the contrary, congress is swamped with more and more demands for new excursions in federal spending.

Some of these demands are coming, as they always do, from pressure groups. Many are emanating directly from the White House, such as the repeated persuasion from Mr. Truman for a tremendous medical bureaucracy which would skyrocket the already fantastic cost of governmental operation.

Mobile Blood Plasma Unit Coming Here

A mobile blood plasma unit will be in Escanaba 19 and 20 and at Gladstone Sept. 22 and 23, providing an opportunity for Delta county residents to build up a substantial blood bank for use in the county in the year ahead.

Escanaba cannot be too proud of its volunteer blood program of 1948 although fortunately Gladstone residents did a particularly good job. Considerably more plasma was used in the county during the past year than was provided by county donors. Of the amount of plasma available for use in Delta county, about three quarters came from Gladstone residents last year. A lot of Escanaba lives may have been saved and probably were saved through the generosity of neighbors from the sister city.

Perhaps it is not generally known that the donation of a pint of blood is a painless procedure, requiring only about a half hour of time. Donors can return to their jobs without discomfort almost immediately.

The expanded use of blood plasma is one of the most important advancements in medical science. Plasma, however, can be secured only from donors. It cannot be manufactured like penicillin or sulfa or some of the other wonder drugs of recent development.

Plan now to be a blood donor when the mobile unit comes to Delta county in September. It is urgent that a far greater quantity of plasma be provided for the county's use in the year ahead than was available in the past year.

The life you save may be your own!

Use Of Drugs Is On Upward Trend

THE use of habit forming drugs among young people is reported to be rising alarmingly in the major cities of the country. Several vicious dope rings catering to minors have been discovered recently in Detroit and Chicago and only this week Milwaukee police arrested several peddlers, charged with supplying marijuana cigarettes and heroin to addicts, including young people.

Marijuana and heroin are among the most degrading drugs, destroying morals and health of their victims. Marijuana particularly is troublesome to stamp out wherever its use has become prevalent because the weed is easily grown. The best method of attack against the dope is, of course, to build stout resistance into the character of our young people, so that they will never turn to the vile "reefers" for pseudo thrills.

Wherever dope is a serious community problem, there is an allied problem of crime increase, particularly sex crime and crimes of violence.

Dope has never been a serious problem here. It is not a serious problem now or, for that matter, it is not a problem at all. Our job as good citizens is to see that it never becomes a menace to the morals and the health of our people.

A Spider In The Paper

ANY years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if that was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising, so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores or any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand as against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could long charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its won purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

Salesmanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy running. Advertising is the heart of it.

FRINGED-TOP SURREY

It was a great day on Mountain View Farm when father announced he guessed we could afford a surrey. "Not just because your mother's brothers has bought one," he explained carefully. "Your mother's family is inclined to be a trifle on the showy side." Father would look briefly at mother, hoping for an argument, but her "humph" was little satisfaction. Modern folks without a background of rural life would not understand the social and economic implications of a surrey. All farm families needed a buckboard and a democrat; some men wanted a buggy with all-around curtains for use in rainy weather. But a surrey meant that a family had a definite luxury, something for special occasions: Church, Fourth of July, Old Home Day and Wednesday evening band concerts.

The catalog ad was satisfying. The illustrations were clear and to the point. The description was specific. "Our $79.50 Acme Royal Canopy Top Surrey, The most handsome and stylish surrey in America. Gear is hand-turned and hung on 1,500 mile axles. Axles are fantail, swaged, with dust-proof collars. Heavy Bailey hangars. Heavy English green upholstery; full spring seats and backs. Two imported French lamps. Body dark green with nonpareil green pillars, a very beautiful yet modestly rich effect. Fitted with best Goodyear rubber tires. Beautifully long, stylish fringe."

There was something about a fringe-topped surrey that a lad could appreciate in those long-ago days. Horseless carriages have a necessary place in our rushing, tense civilization. Men no longer could keep up with today's headlong pace if they drove trotters or pacers. But no matter how low and long they finally make automobile bodies, the mechanical contraptions can never equal a stylish surrey to men who can look back half a century. When a lad hitched the roader to the freshly-washed surrey and the family went to town, it gave a young man a certain psychological assurance. Fringe-topped carriages are gone forever; they have joined the heap of man's discarded implements. But they played a role in those by-gone days when people were content to go through life at a speed of a few miles per hour.—By Haydn Pearson.

KILLING WORDS

The suffix -icide means "killer," from the French, from the Latin caedere, "to kill." The suffix -icide is pronounced exactly like the word "side."

Filicide, "one who kills a son or daughter; the act of killing one's child," is pronounced: FILL-i-side.

Fratricide, "he who kills his brother," is: FRAT-ri-side.

Genocide, "the playing of a group or race of people; one who kills, or causes to be killed, a group of people," is: JEN-uh-side.

Homicide, "he who kills another not his kin; the act of killing a person," is: HOM-i-side, the first syllable rhyming with "Tom."

Infanticide, "the killer of an infant; the act of killing an infant," is: in-FAN-ti-side. Matricide, "he who kills his mother; the act of killing one's mother," is: MAT-ri-side.

Parricide, "one who kills a close relation, or who kills his ruler; the act of killing a close relation, or one's ruler," is: "PAR-i-

World Food Fund Urged

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—That ominous word "surplus" is recurring with ever increasing frequency as bumper crops continue to make the headlines. The government is buying certain commodities and piling up loans on others in order to keep the price up to the support level called for by law.

This coincides with a conference in New York which should be making more news than it is. The United Nations is holding a scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources at which men of learning and knowledge are talking about ways of solving the dilemma of plenty in the midst of want.

The conference was first proposed before World War II. It was originally conceived by the late Gifford Pinchot, the father of the American conservation movement. In discussing it with President Roosevelt, Pinchot saw it as the beginning of a dramatic attack on hunger in the world, on the one hand, and on the salvaging of basic natural resources on the other.

UNSOLVED PROBLEM

Unfortunately, in planning the long delayed conference, state department caution and timidity caused a scaling down of the original concept. Instead of heralding a dramatic step forward taken by the chief nations of the world, the conference largely has been limited to a technical discussion of food production and conservation.

Yet nevertheless the conference is pointing up what was one of the basic problems in the years leading up to 1939 and what is still a problem unsolved. One of the signposts on the road that led to war was marked with the desperate riddle of unmanageable "surpluses" in some countries and hunger and gnawing insecurity in others.

At least one speaker at the conference had the courage to tackle this riddle head-on. Sir Herbert Broadley, deputy director of the U. N.'s food and agriculture organization, dispelled any illusions anyone may have had that things are getting comfortably back to the pre-war norm.

The world supply of foodstuffs is estimated to be about 5 per cent above the average output before the war. It is at least 10 per cent above that of last year.

POPULATION INCREASES

But it is still woefully behind the need. In the prewar years millions were hungry and other millions were close to the line of hunger. The present production would be far from sufficient to provide adequately for the population of 1939. But in the meantime there has been an enormous population increase—20,000,000 per each post-war year.

Shortly after FAO was established in 1945 a little group of experts sat down to figure out how much food it would take to give almost everyone an adequate diet in 1960. They came up with startling figures—60 million more tons of cereal, 30 million more tons of meat, 250 million more tons of fruit and vegetables and no less than 35 billion gallons more of milk.

Even to present such figures may sound hopelessly Utopian. A school of thought is growing in this country which holds that starvation, famine and pestilence are inevitable. They even are desirable, if you accept this un-Christian point of view, since they keep down the unmanageable population increase.

FAO rejects this counsel of despair and futility. As Broadley said in his speech, the underfed and the discontented always are ready for the final desperate adventure of war. And as other speakers at the conservation conference have pointed out, another war will make such terrifying inroads even into the resources of the "have" nations that hunger and pestilence really may become inevitable over far wider areas of the earth.

SICKLE TO SCYTHE

With its pathetically small budget—a fraction of the $44,300,000, which is the total proposed for the United Nations in 1950—FAO is attacking the problem of food production with emphasis on the scarcity countries. It proposes simple changes such as the shift from the sickle to the scythe, which would increase substantially the volume of grain harvested in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

This is one of FAO's strengths—that it does not propose vast and costly projects. Through education it is passing on the techniques of the high level countries to the low level countries. But this may not be fast enough, one reason why FAO now proposes a world food fund for an intensive attack on the enemy, hunger.

Plowing under crops and killing little pigs is fundamentally repugnant to the average individual. Despite its threat of rebranding, one of the attractions of the Brannan farm plan is that it proposes to let production boom while keeping prices low. This may not be a solution, but mankind will not stop seeking for an answer to the riddle of "overproduction" and "underconsumption."

side, the first syllable as in "parrot." Patricide, "he who kills his father; the act of killing one's father," is: PAT-ri-side. Regicide, "one who kills his king; the killing of one's king," is: REDGE-i-side.

Sororicide, "he who kills his sister; the act of killing one's sister," is: suh-RAWR-i-side.

Suicide, from the Latin sui- "of oneself," means, "he who takes his own life; the act of killing oneself," is: "SOO-i-side; or, less frequently: SYOO-i-side.

Avicide, "the slaying of birds," is: AV-i-side.

Fungicide, "a spray or dust for destroying fungi," is: FUN-i-side.

Insecticide, "any preparation used for killing insects," is: in-SEK-ti-side.

Germicide, "any preparation or substance that destroys bacteria," is: JER-mi-side.

The Awkward Squad

Hollywood

By Erskine Johnson

By JOHN LUND

(For Erskine Johnson who is on vacation).

Hollywood (NEA)—Four years ago this very month, I arrived in Hollywood, determined to do or die. Then I saw myself on the screen and began shopping around for an embalmer. In that far off July, I was innocent, wide-eyed. (That is, my eyes would have been wide if I could have got them open at all.)

My ignorance of the cinema was profound. I thought "a tight two" referred to an unmarried couple on a binge and a "coccoloris" for all I knew, was George Coulouris' father. Three years have made me wiser. I still couldn't tell you exactly what a coccoloris is but I do know that it cannot in any way be held responsible for George.

In these forty and eight months I have striven mightily to learn movie ways and means, but although I have keen intuition, a retentive memory, superb deductive powers, a perfectly ravishing figure—and have lived through eight films for Paramount up to the end of "The Lie," I must own that certain phases of this operation still baffle me.

How can a movie pugilist soak up more punishment in a single Gaud than Jerries Johnson, Dempsey, Tunney and Louis absorbed in their combined careers? and live to play footsie with a blonde yet?

Whodunnit?

Why, in the movies, does a dying man always have enough strength to say every word in the dictionary except the one we want to hear? When the cops bend over his bullet-riddled body and rasp: "Who done it, Louie?" Louie gasps, "What you say, Inspector?"

"Who done it, Louie?" "Who done it?" "Yeah, Louie, yeah?" "It was—it was—"

And then—then, mind you, Louie that dope, he has to go and kick the bucket! A minute ago he was talking a blue streak, he practically recited the Gettysburg Address, but just when we're about to hit pay dirt, he clams up and dies. And we have to sit through six more reels before we find out who done it. If Louie had had an ounce of stamina, we could all have gone home at a respectable hour.

Why, in scenes showing an audience at a symphony concert, do all the listeners seem to be under the influence of hashish? It's all right to love music, but let's keep its platonic, kids.

Take a picture when the heroine is supposed to be a Broadway actress and we see her on the stage playing in her latest hit before a packed house. My question is—where do they get that audience? Those people will laugh at a comma and a semi-colon throws them into hysterics.

The heroine will be sitting at stage left, lightly strumming a piano (the heroine always plays the piano. Why not a bass violin once in a while, just to break the monotony?). Anyway, there she sits, clutching the keys, and a man wearing white pants comes on and says, "Tris, where is everyone?" The heroine hits a tonic chord and replies, "Everyone, Bertie? Oh, around."

It's Unbelievable

Then that poor girl smirks, just as though she'd pulled a fast one and you think maybe the kid is a little retarded—but no, sir, by George, the audience likes it, too! Like it? They go into convulsions. They tear the roof off. They quiet down just long enough to hear the girl say, "And by 'around,' Bertie

So They Say

If labor is the hands and management the head of Hawaii's economic life, ocean-going transportation is the jugular vein. If that is cut, both hands and head are sure to perish.—Gov. Ingram Stainback of the Territory of Hawaii.

I'm a parlay player. I always made it a practice to spend on Mabel what I got from Jane. —Don't forget that all these women were trying to take me, too.—Master Swindler Sigmund Engel.

Equality (of the sexes) does not exist in nature. The obvious truth is that while the two sexes have great resemblances than differences, they also have extremely important characteristics in which they are not only different, but in which each one is superior in some respects and inferior in others.—Dr. Paul Popenoe, director, American Institute of Family Relations.

I can't understand why girls go out and pay money for French bathing suits. You can make one yourself out of three or four band-aids. —Movie actress Marie Wilson.

Pork barrel. . . is now being marketed in a comparatively new package, but when the new wrapping is peeled off, I have a very real feeling that however succulent the slices, it is the same old bologna.—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D) of Illinois, referring to the Army Civil Functions Appropriations Bill.

Bus Rides For Shoppers

There hasn't been much in the paper about the city bus situation, but I ran across an item that might be of interest in this connection. In Sacramento, Calif., the merchants give free bus rides to shoppers. The plan has been in operation for a year and is considered a success in promoting shopping and also relieving traffic congestion in the business district. A shopper pays the seven cents fare when he or she boards the bus to go downtown. The patron asks for a dated ticket. Upon making a purchase of at least one dollar in any participating store, she is given two bus tokens. This is similar to plan operated by Green Bay stores with regard to automobile parking. In Green Bay, if you show a sales slip from certain stores you don't have to pay for parking your car in their special parking lot.

Planting Of Ptarmigan

Dear Editor: Harold J. Richards of Caspian, a former member of the conservation commission, told the Iron River Service club in a speech recently that he plans to petition the conservation department to transplant 500 more ptarmigans from Canada into the Upper Peninsula. The conservation department has spent considerable money already with Richards' pet project. I think it is a waste of money. It is usually the case that when you import birds from some distant region they fail to thrive. It would be much better to spend the money on multiplying the partridge and other species that we know now will get along all right.

Better Town Ideas

Dear Editor: I have been reading the Public Forum with much interest, but this is the first time it has occurred to me to write something for it. I should think the Public Forum would be a good place for the citizens of Escanaba to submit their ideas for building a better town.

I'll submit an idea of my own. What we need in Escanaba is a building large enough to accommodate a regulation size hockey rink. Hockey would develop into a very popular sport here if we had a good rink.

Anyone else have any ideas? A Reader.

Forget Buck Law

Dear Editor: Isn't it about time we realize that the one buck law has served its purpose? In fact, I think it has worked too well. Michigan now has an oversupply of deer. Food is scarce in some places. The deer population should be cut down so they will not starve to death. Why not forget the one buck law, and permit hunters to kill one deer of any sex? This will give hunters a better chance of filling their licenses. If the deer herd eventually becomes too small under this plan, then we can go back to the one-buck law. I believe this deer question is important in the Upper Peninsula for it helps to bring more tourists after the summer season is over. I wish other hunters would express their views on this matter.

Unlucky Deer Hunter.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington. — An extraordinary backstage scramble is taking place within the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

While the anti-Communist Phil Murray leadership is preparing to boot out the leftist unions at the CIO's Cleveland convention, the latter are racing to beat this move to the bunc with a walkout of their own.

The "lefties" have called a meeting in New York on August 30. Inside word is they will stage a bolt and proclaim the establishment of a national labor organization of their own. Informed sources say this is the new Communist party line.

Call for this powwow was issued by the following: United Electrical Workers; Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers; United Public Workers; United Furniture Workers; United Packinghouse Workers; United Fur Workers.

Significantly not in this list is the International Longshoremen's Union, headed by Harry Bridges. Although the leading CIO leftist, Bridges can not take his union out of the CIO. An attempt would split it wide open. He is already under powerful attack within the organization.

However, it is reliably reported that Bridges had a leading hand in the decision that convened the leftist meeting. If he doesn't show up personally, he is certain to play a decisive role behind-the-scenes. He is the No. 1 choice to head their new leftist labor organization.

Meanwhile, Murray and his anti-Communist leaders are setting the stage for a clean break with the "lefties" at the Cleveland convention. Regardless of what the latter do at their August 30 meeting, the CIO chiefs intend to purge their rolls in Cleveland.

RHAPSODY

Arkansas and Alabama aren't sure they haven't grounds to be miffed at Rep. Frank Boykin. The rotund Alabamian became excitedly lyrical when he met Arkansas' gorgeous entry to the "Miss America" contest. Rep. Brook Hays, D., Ark., introduced the young lady to Boykin at lunch.

"Honey," he rhapsodized, "you couldn't be from Arkansas. You are so beautiful you must have come from heaven."

BIG TIPPER

For months, Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J., awaiting trial on kickback charges, was a patient at the army's Walter Reed hospital. With the exception of a $1-a-day charge for meals, Thomas's two major operations and other extensive medical care were free. Taxpayers footed the bill.

Recently he was released from the hospital. It is the custom for civilian patients, upon leaving, to give their attendants a bank note as a token of appreciation for their care. Thomas observed this tradition—after a fashion.

To his attendants and nurses he presented autographed admission cards to the visitors' gallery of the house.

Note—With both chambers of congress under extensive renovation, visitors' galleries are shut down and will remain so until next year.

BLUE FUNK

The federal trade commission is in a sad state. With one exception, its six members are either ill, scared stiff over prospects of being reappointed, or their appointment is stymied in the senate. The exception is Commissioner William Ayres, 80 years old, who still has five years to serve. Of the other five members, Acting Chairman Lowell Mason is treading softly because of uncertainty over whether he will be renamed next month; Commissioner Edwin Davis has been ill in a hospital for weeks; Commissioner Garland Ferguson, whose term expired last year, doesn't know where he stands; and the latest appointee, John Carson,

Transfer Road Money To State

Highway Dept. Asked To Improve M-35

Federal money amounting to $18,511 which was allotted to Delta County for road use, is being offered to the State Highway Department with the recommendation that the money be used to improve M-35 in Ford River and Bark River townships, William Karas, superintendent-engineer of the Delta County road commission, said today.

The Delta county road commission is unable to match dollar for dollar on the federal aid money and therefore is transferring the funds to the state highway department, to be matched with state highway money. The entire amount will revert back to Washington, D. C., for redistribution, unless it is covering road contract work by July 1, 1950.

Each year the federal government notifies county road commissions that certain amounts of money are available for their county. This federal aid money can be used for roads in the secondary classification, provided the money covers projects of a permanent, thorough nature. In other words, the money can be used for ditching roads, hill cutting, and blacktopping over gravel. It can not be used for deferred maintenance projects. All projects contemplated with the use of federal money must be approved by state and federal engineers.

"In Delta County," Karas said, "we need at least a thin skin of gravel on all roads before we can concentrate on any one road."

The recommended use of the funds on M-35 will take care of about nine miles, if the state highway department accepts the commission's recommendation.

Menominee Roofers Severely Burned By Short Circuit

Two Menominee employees of the Independent Roofing company were burned seriously about 8:30 a. m., Wednesday when their clothing was set afire by a short circuit of a 66,000 volt power line at the converting plant of the Marinette Paper company at Marinette.

The two, Alvin Anderla, 35, of 803 Dunlap avenue, Menominee, and Howard Schiner, 33, of 4406 Earle St., Menominee, suffered first and second degree flesh burns. Anderla, the more seriously injured, was reported today by authorities at St. Joseph hospital as still in critical condition, though somewhat improved. The condition of Schiner is reported fair and better.

The two men were on the roof of the converting plant and were raising a 16-foot "A" boom on the roof. The boom twisted and made contact with the high voltage line from the M & M traction company sub-station.

Four Light & Traction company employees, Joseph McGuire, Peter Quade, Glen Nicklaus and Warren Bernardy, saw the flash from the contact and the men with their clothing burning, and rushed over to the building. The men extinguished the fire on the men and applied artificial respiration until a rescue squad arrived.

Joseph Neumeier of the Independent Roofing company said the crew was preparing to apply tar covering on the roof.

Cletis Dahl, Successful Blind Detroit Business Leader, Visits At Home

Bark River, Mich.—Cletis Dahl, who since starting a business for the blind in Detroit in 1940 has helped over 400 blind persons become self-supporting, is visiting in Bark River with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dahl.

Dahl, who was blinded in an explosion in 1931, started his business, the Blind Products Sales company, because he wanted to help some of the blind persons he knew while attending the school for the blind in Lansing.

"The greatest handicap for a blind person is not his blindness but public opinion," the young business man states. "In our company, we have to do a great deal of rehabilitation before the blind we hire can really be successful."

The company Dahl started was the first group of blind people to enter a business in open competition with other establishments, without subsidization from social agencies or otherwise.

Has Two Children

About 80 per cent of the persons Dahl employs are blind. When he first started four or five were working with him. Now more than 200 are employed with the company. Not all are on the company payroll, however, as some sell the company's products on an independent basis.

Dahl operated a business in Milwaukee from 1937 until he sold out and went to Detroit. He is married, to a girl he met in the school for the blind at Lansing, and has two children, Marvin and Beverly Ann.

"We take able-bodied, healthy blind people, teach them good work habits, and help them overcome the loss of individual initiative and an abnormal sense of dependence upon others. This latter, Dahl says, "is fostered by well-meaning relatives who protect the blind too much, and who don't help them overcome their depression and get out and do something."

Dahl told of an intelligent, capable girl whom he knew in school. After she finished, with high marks and high ratings, she went to her farm home and stayed there, doing nothing. He wrote 25 letters to her before he could induce her to leave her seclusion and start working. After she went to Detroit, the company found her a room, difficult to say the least, and put her on the payroll even though she wasn't working. The girl was encouraged to take sewing lessons, and today is one of the best seamstresses the company has. She is able to turn out an ironing board cover every minute. They are 170 inches around!

About two weeks ago Dahl and some of his workers did a television show over WWJ-TV in Detroit, showing some of the work the blind can do and demonstrated how they set up sewing machines, weaving looms, etc. The company Dahl started has been written about in several national magazines.

Dahl, who says the Escanaba Rotary club helped him greatly after he lost his eyesight, says his company now has a broom factory in Tulsa, Okla., a door mat plant in Dayton, Ohio, two dress shops and a weaving shop in Detroit. The company maintains offices in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky as well as in Michigan.

Dealership In Escanaba

Seventy per cent of the products sold by the company are made in shops, and 30 per cent in individual homes. "We are going to have more material made in homes as we go along, because we don't like to disturb the environment of the workers unless it's necessary," he says. "However not all our work lends itself to that. Some jobs require four or five machines to work on them, and it would be impractical for us to let the work out on those. We couldn't compete in a standard market then."

The company is now setting up a new office in Indianapolis, and next spring plans to set up dealerships in Escanaba, Marquette and Iron Mountain. Large wholesale houses, including the Delta Hardware in Escanaba, buy products made by the company.

Proud of U. S.

A staff of 10 trains the blind workers in Detroit. Seven of these can give intensive training. Among Upper Michigan blind persons who have or are working with the company are George Shampo, formerly of Escanaba but now employed as an auto mechanic in Detroit; Paul Olson of Gladstone, who is married and attending Michigan State College and David Page of Gladstone.

"You know," Dahl leans back and says, "I hear quite a few gripes about our government. But this is the only country in the world where a blind man can start from scratch and work his way up. Of course, there are other things about our country of which we can be equally proud. For instance, in the 150 years since the country has been settled, we have produced more goods than all the rest. And yet we have only seven per cent of the world's population."

Perkins

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nelson have returned from Racine, Wis., where they visited at the home of her mother, Mrs. Agnes Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blossoms and children, Jane, Patricia and Robert, of Detroit and Mrs. Josephine Gerou of Gladstone, were guests this past weekend at the Walter Gerou home.

Clemens Pamperin who arrived from Denver, Colo., for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pamperin, is leaving Friday by motor for his home, accompanied by his mother, who will visit in Denver for 10 days.

RED OWL PROUDLY FEATURES

What This Means to You!

Only experienced government meat graders are authorized to stamp "U. S. Choice" or "U. S. Good" on meats. This is your assurance of top quality. Insist on this U. S. Grade Stamp when you buy Beef.—You're sure of getting the quality of meat you buy.

No 'A' or 'AA' Grades!

The government does not grade "A" or "AA"! Those are merely butcher's individual ideas which he can apply to any grade of meat. Government graded meats show impartial descriptions at RED OWL.

"U. S. Good" Beef!

This Beef is of high quality and suitable for consumers who demand good quality Beef. Remember, only the U. S. Government Grade Stamp assures you of this quality.

IMPORTANT!

U. S. Grades are always uniform regardless of conditions. If you don't know meats, know your government grades and you'll never go wrong on the quality.

Tender, juicy, fine-flavored meat doesn't "just happen". RED OWL buy only government Inspected and Graded Beef . . . carefully trims it of excess fat and bone. Since nothing is left to chance, RED OWL can guarantee complete satisfaction or money back.

Make Survey Of Industries

Many Small Towns Attract Plants

Has your home-town attracted new industries since V-J-Day? Many small towns in Michigan have.

Any traveler to Michigan who visits small towns is instantly impressed with this fact. Industrial decentralization—that $20 phrase for the splitting up of big business into little business—is putting new payrolls and pep into many Michigan communities of less than 10,000 population.

Even Henry Ford II has conceded that the River Rouge plant, soon to be the stage for another costly and wasteful strike, has become too big to be run efficiently. The snarls of city traffic do not help any, either. City life isn't what it's cracked up to be for both the manufacturer and the worker. Hence the continuing trend of industry into small cities and towns.

A "Michigan Mirror" survey offers these spot examples of Michigan small towns which have attracted new industries since the war:

Gladstone — $80,000 branch plant of the Coleman Canning Company of Coleman, Wisconsin. From 150 to 200 persons will be employed during season.

Allegan—Globe Milling Company, manufacturers of underwear, employing 80 persons for a $3,200 weekly payroll.

Baldwin — Packing Material company, making cartons and mounts for refrigerators and stoves. (Union demands for same wage scale as Detroit and Flint have resulted in plant shutdown at frequent intervals.)

Blissfield — Blissfield Manufacturing Company, employing 33 persons, makes refrigerator units.

St. Ignace—Paul Bunyan Company and Barrett Logging Company, manufacturers of FHA-approved half-log pre-cut or pre-fabricated homes and producers of lumber and logs, kiln dried.

Gaylord — Standard Products Company employs 55 men and women with $3,000 weekly payroll. Branch of Standard Products Company of Port Clinton, Ohio. This firm makes door channels for General Motors and other automobile manufacturers.

Clare — Clare Manufacturing Company, home industry which makes carburetor parts for Ford Motors Company. Payroll for 200 to 400 persons.

Cedar Springs—The "Red Flannel Town" has a new industry, Blockcraft, Inc., which moved from Grand Rapids and makes high grade wooden blocks and toy departments. Payroll for 30 persons.

St. Johns—Sealed Power Corporation with 200 employees makes piston rings. Division of Muskegon plant. Also, Federal-Mogul Corporation, also with 200 workers, a division of a Detroit plant.

Harrisville—A group of businessmen of Harrisville formed the Industrial Development association and bought five acres of land within the city limits. Building was leased to Erb & Marshall of Port Huron, makers of "Kenwood" winter garments. At present 25 women are employed; 50 women will be at work by Jan. 1.

Sturgis — Six new industries furnish employment for 270 persons and $12,150 weekly payroll: Grava-Flow Company, plumbing equipment; Sanitor Company, restroom equipment; Sturgis Carton Company, packing cartons; Sturgis Foundry Company, auto parts; Universal Diesel Company, Diesel engine parts, and M & R Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., processed milk foods. M & R is branch of Columbus, Ohio, concern. Others are independents.

Newberry — Atlas Plywood Company, employing 120; Flint River Fuel & Lumber Co., employing 40. Both are branch firms.

Bangor — Here is one of the top Michigan small towns in point of industrial progress. Listen to this: Six new industries furnish employment for approximately 500 persons; 150 new homes build during past 18 months. Municipally owned baseball, softball, football park rebuilt and lighted. Village debt free. Six new business buildings in past two years.

The firms: Standard Coil Products, radio parts manufacturer, branch of Chicago firm; Du-Wel Metal products from Chicago in 1946 employs 80 men; Bangor Plastics, branch of Benton Harbor firm; Howard Engineering Co., from Otego; Well-Made Garment Company, feeder branch of Chicago main factory.

If your town is not attracting new industry, we recommend you visit Bangor and see for yourself!

These are a few examples of industrial progress in Michigan small towns.

Navy Uniform Change Praised

But Ruark Bemoans Loss Of Tradition

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—As a reformed guardian of a few hundred navy enlisted men, I applaud the navy's decision to modernize the classic bluejacket uniform, but bemoan it from the angle of the individual and his relationship to tradition.

We live in a functional age, full of suction-cup brassieres and glass shoes, but there was something mighty fine and proud about that silly gob's suit. Few men wore it well. You had to be a six-footer with no hips to look sharp in it, but when the boys were sharp they were twice as sharp as a marine sergeant in formal dress regalia.

The 13-button pants, for instance, were as non-functional as a team of oxen on Fifth Ave., but they carried some tradition. As I understood it, the 13 buttons represented the original states. In the foolish talk of the men, they represented many another thing. Most of which were unprintable gibes at officers, whose britches buttoned decorously up the front.

I see that the navy has left the flap collar alone, although it, too, is as outmoded as the mammoth. The huge, unwieldy collar comes from away back, when the brawny jacks wore tarry pigtails. The collar was to prevent the tar from oozing off onto the uniform.

They have momentarily kept the fingers of progress off the bell-bottomed trousers. Pants were not designed, as is the common belief, to make it easier for the sailor to shed his pantaloons if he were suddenly washed over the side, but for a more practical reason. The big pants were easier to roll up, from the bottom, when the seagoing man was engaged in multiple damp tasks, such as washing down a deck or cleansing a hold.

Ample Pocket Space

But now they are going to give the gob ample pocket space, zip-upers on his pants, and loose jumper sleeves instead of the old fashioned tight ones.

Giving a sailor extra pockets may undermine the morale of his officers. If he has pockets, the cigarettes, the comb, the small wallet, will no longer peep from the blouse. If they no longer peep from the blouse, the officers will have nothing to grouch about when a shore-going inspection is held.

The same applies to the sleeves of the jumper. If a sailor has loose, comfortable sleeves, never again will he roll his cuffs halfway up his arms, in direct violation of regulation, and his superiors will chafe. They will grow complex as a result of having little to beef about.

No true seadog ever needed pockets. Any enlisted man worthy of his stencil would find a female to carry his trappings for him, 10 minutes after he hit the dock. There was room in the inner pants pocket for enough dough to last the evening, and any man of mine who ever came back to the ship with money in his jeans was regarded as a sissy.

Other Changes Likely

The thing I dislike most about these small changes in the sailor suit is the uniform revolution it heralds. Some admiral, soon, is a cinch to decide that the foolish round white cap is of no earthly use, and substitute a sombrero. Another admiral will reflect that a jumper is impractical. And replace it with a sack-coat, possibly with a belt in back. Still another will quarrel with the bell-bottomed trousers and the floppy collar.

Then the ladies of many lands will be bereft of the greatest, cockiest sight known to the female eye—that of a gunner's mate in expensive tailormades, skin tight across the rear, skin tight to the knees, with a blouse that fits him closer than his hide, swaggering the quay in search of trouble.

Nobody was ever able to swagger like a gunner's mate. When they start loading him down with improvements the swagger is bound to shrink. And when a gunner's mate looks like any other specimen of the forces, Mac—well, you might as well scrap the navy and give it all to the air force. The spirit of John Paul Jones will have fled from the seas.

MIDSUMMER ART'S DREAM

On summer days the picturesque harbor town of Provincetown, Mass., at the tip of Cape Cod, is pungent with salt air and artists' oils. "P-Town" as Cape Codders, natives and visitors alike call it, is as well known for its fishing as it is for the oil-daubed canvases which can be seen everywhere — in quaint little studios, on the beaches and beside fish shanties and piers.

Provincetown's fame as an art colony started about the turn of the century when Charles W. Hawthorne founded the Cape Cod School of Art. He attracted students and fellow artists until by the early 1920s the place was the artistic center of the nation in the summer. Along with the artists came writers. Together they founded the "Provincetown Players" where such budding dramatists as Eugene O'Neill first saw their plays produced.

Today the community suffers growing pains. The automobile and the paved highway and the steamer from Boston 120 miles away have brought an influx of tourists. Cabins line the dunes on the highway leading to the town. But fishing and the artists still remain the chief attractions.

SHIPS AND THE SAND at Provincetown furnish setting for Bonnie Phippeny, Silver Springs, Md., art student, while little Roger Hathaway looks on. In back Bob Clark works on stern of small craft.

SANDALS for the Provincetown folk are made by Menalkas Duncan in his shop. He works outdoors in good weather.

CERAMIC artist Aletha Rice takes vase out of oven where it baked for two hours to glaze bright colors into the china.

MODEL poses in studio directed by Kenneth Campbell and Giglio Dante. Dancing is also studied here..

OFF TO THE BEACH for a day's work, these artists lug their canvases and large easel through a narrow street, near waterfront.

SUN-LIT BEACH is classroom for Harry Engel, center, and his students. He teaches art at Indiana U. This week's PICTURE SHOW by AP Staff Photographer Peter J. Carroll

Today's Recipes

Mrs. Raymond Young of Gladstone Route One would like a recipe for ripe cucumber pickles more commonly called slippery jims. Will you send this in to the Recipe Department if you happen to have it?

Mrs. George Wilson of 122 North 14th street, Manistique, has given the department her corn relish recipe requested by a reader a few days ago.

Corn Relish

Cut corn off 12 ears of corn. If small use one and one-half dozen.

Chop one head cabbage
Three small bunches celery
Three small onions
Two red peppers, small
Two quarts vinegar
Two cups brown sugar

One teaspoon salt
One tablespoon mustard seed
Take seeds out of red peppers.
Put all together. Boil 20 minutes. Can while hot. One level teaspoon turmeric may be used if desired.

This may be made in the winter time. Use three cans of kernel corn, one teaspoon table mustard instead of mustard seed and one-fourth teaspoon powdered red pepper instead of red peppers.

Munising News

Mather Band Will Take Lake Cruise

Munising—The Mather high school band, which has played at the city dock on several occasions when the passenger cruiser South American stopped here, will be taken on a cruise to Houghton Tuesday through the courtesy of the Georgian Bay Line.

In a letter to the Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce E. J. Goebel, executive vice-president, extended the invitation to the band to make the trip next Tuesday, on the last scheduled Lake Superior cruise of this summer. The band members, with two chaperones, will board the ship when it makes a regular stop here at 9:30 a. m., and will ride to Houghton, arriving there at 7:30 p. m. and returning to Munising by car.

Story Hour At Carnegie Library
Begins Saturday

Boys and girls who enjoyed the story hour at the Carnegie public library so much this past year will be pleased to know that it will be held again, beginning Saturday, August 27, and continuing through the winter.

The time will be the same, 10 o'clock every Saturday morning, in the children's room of the library, and Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian, will again be in charge of this special feature for children.

This Saturday Miss Harris will tell two stories of great fun. The first one will be "Ask Mr. Bear", the story of two children who wanted to give their father a birthday present and didn't know what to give him. The second story will be "The Forgetful Elephant", proving that elephants do forget.

Parents are reminded that all children are welcome and that little children may be brought to story hour while their mothers and fathers shop or do other errands. Last year 1,219 children attended the story hours and Miss Harris hopes that just as many—and many more will attend this year.

Parents as well as children are welcome to visit the children's room at any time. The hours are 9 to 5:30 daily except Sundays and holidays.

Women Of Ford
River Organize
Project Club

Organization of the Ford River Project club, composed of women of Ford River township, was completed at a meeting held Tuesday with Miss Blanche Traude, who has sponsored the organization efforts, serving as chairman.

Mrs. E. J. Fournier was elected president; Mrs. Stella Flanders, vice president, and Mrs. Harold B. Fuller, secretary-treasurer.

The club which will work on problems and projects for the village of Ford River, will have as its first project, improvement of the light at the mouth of the Ford River to aid fishermen and the securing of playground equipment for the children.

Women unable to attend the organization meeting may become members by calling the president, Mrs. Fournier. There is no membership fee connected with the club.

The club is planning to hold a games party at the Ford River Grove Labor Day, September 5, at 2 p. m.

Washington Italian Prunes, sometimes called Purple Plums, have a rich color, piquant flavor and sweetness that make them distinctive among canning fruits.

For variety, can plenty of each of these fine fruits and serve them alternately. They are rich in healthful fruit acids and minerals and give zest to any meal. The season is short—don't delay—order your canning requirements immediately.

May Cut Width Of Bluff Ave.

Reduction To 60 Ft. Is Proposed

Public hearing on a proposal to reduce Loueda avenue from 80 to 6 feet in width will be held on Monday, Sept. 12, it was decided at a meeting of the city commission this week.

Request for such action was made to the commission by Dr. George Kelly, city, who is an owner of property along Loueda avenue.

The thoroughfare in question runs from the top of the South Gladstone hill along the bluff a distance of eight blocks.

If reduced in width, property taken from the avenue would revert to owners of property abutting the street.

The commission also went on record as protesting regulations which prevent persons owning property of a certain valuation from obtaining relief.

City Manager H. J. Henrikson told the commission that property owners on Thirteenth street, Superior to Michigan avenue, were reacting favorably toward estimates of paving Thirteenth. The four blocks paving would cost about $17,000 if done with concrete and about $10,000 if black-topped.

They both received many beautiful gifts.

John Devost Finds 21 4-Leaf Clovers

If there is anything to the age-old superstition that 4-leaf clovers bring good luck, John Devost, 1402 Minneapolis, avenue should have plenty of it coming for some time. Tuesday Mr. Devost picked 21 4-leaf clovers and 13 that bore 5 leaves. He has them pressed in a book for the inspection of any interested persons.

Band Practice Begins Monday

Paul Cowen Requests Musicians Report

First practice for the Gladstone high school band is being called for Monday at one o'clock by Paul Cowen, instructor of music in the public schools.

All former members of the band who are still in school and musicians who wish to try out for the band are invited to the practice.

First public appearance of the band will be at the St. Joseph-Gladstone football game, Mr. Cowen indicated.

Students who have not enrolled may do so at any time during regular office hours between now and the opening of the school term on April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lindner and family of Menominee, Mich., visited on Sunday with Mrs. Lindner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lanthier. Their son Billie remained at his grandparents home for a several weeks visit.

Mrs. John Vogt, Mrs. Ina Green and daughter Arlene, City, and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Detroit, and Miss Francis Zimmerman of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., spent Monday and Tuesday visiting Mackinac Island and the Canadian Soo.

C. P. TITUS

C. P. Titus of Bellevue will return to Gladstone in the near future to establish headquarters for his new position as field representative of the Michigan Educational association in the Upper Peninsula and the northern portion of Lower Michigan.

Titus resigned last week as superintendent of the Bellevue agricultural school district, a position he has held the past three years. He will be succeeded at Bellevue by R. P. Bokers of Rapid River.

Titus attended Ferris Institute and received his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan College in 1927. Later, he earned his master's degree at the University of Michigan.

He taught in the Gladstone high school seven years and was elected Delta county commissioner of schools in 1935. He served in this office until June, 1946, when he accepted the superintendency at Bellevue.

Attend Annual State 4-H Show

Gerald Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gray of Cooks, will leave Monday for East Lansing to attend the annual State 4-H Club Show, August 30-September 2. Gerald won the right to represent the Upper Peninsula in crops judging contest at Camp Shaw early this month. The U. P. delegates will travel by school bus and will spend Monday night at the Twin Lakes 4-H Club Camp at Traverse City, and go on to East Lansing on Tuesday.

The group will be escorted by Ben Weststrate, Assistant State Club Leader; Miss Dorothy Erler, Assistant State Club Leader; Frank Degen, Marquette County Club Agent; and Miss Bernice LaFreniere, Chippewa County Home Demonstration Agent.

The annual show, held at Michigan State College, is expected to draw a record attendance this year. Entries come from every county in Michigan.

The show is the climax of the year's 4-H club work. Exhibits which have been chosen as best at county and regional meetings are taken to the show to compete for state honors.

Livestock exhibits, except horses, will be shown under Macklin Field Stadium. Horses will be housed in the riding horse barn.

Garden, Home Economics, Handicraft, and crops exhibits will be shown in the college auditorium and the agricultural engineering building. Delegates and 4-H club leaders will live in the MSC quonset village area during the show.

In addition to the displays of projects, evening program are planned for the 4-H club members and guests. A. G. Kettunen, State 4-H Club leader, has issued an invitation to the public to attend the show and programs free of charge.

Season's Final
Band Concert
Friday Evening

The Manistique Concert Band will hold its final open air concert of the season at the court house Friday evening at nine o'clock. Ferdinand Gorsche, director, announces.

The season officially closed two weeks ago, Gorsche states, but no notice was given the public to that effect and "folks kept asking for more, so we are doing this just to accommodate our friends who have shown such fine appreciation of our efforts," the director added.

Fire Hydrants
Given Coating Of Aluminum Paint

Fire hydrants are usually painted green or red—dependant upon what has been the vogue in that particular area; but in Manistique they have been of a dingy hue that has refused to be classified.

H. W. Heideman, Manistique's new city manager, took note of this when he first arrived in town and said something should be done about it. The hydrants were given an application of aluminum paint. As a result, these commonplace, but very necessary objects, are no longer unsightly.

Personal Feud Brewing Between Pennant-Hungry Card, Bum Bosses

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The spirited stretch battle between Brooklyn and St. Louis may develop into a personal feud between the rival managers of the pennant hungry clubs.

Thus far, Eddie Dyer, boss of the Redbirds, has kept his peace. At least he hasn't openly belittled the Brooks. But not old Burt Shotton, The 64-year-old fire-brand, sometimes referred to as "Battling Barney," is simply spilling for a fight. Nearly back to his normal cocky self following a couple of smashing victories over the Cardinals, the silver-haired pilot of the Brooks disdainfully referred to the Redbirds as "just a so-so ball club."

"They're not much," Shotton dismissed the Cards today. "And here's why. We've never felt worse, played worse nor looked worse than we have during the past week. And yet those guys could build up only a one game lead on us. In my book that makes the Cards not so hot."

"They've had all the breaks and still couldn't open up a big lead on us," Barney continued. "What are they going to do when the breaks begin to fall our way, as I know they will. I think we're finally straightened out. We're sure to take them now."

Informed of Shotton's remarks, Dyer had to say this: "Lucky, eh? Yeah, we're lucky to have old pros like Musial, Slaughter, Marion and Schoendienst on our side. Let's see, now. How have we fared against those dangerous Dodgers? I think we've beaten them 11 out of 19. Yeah, pard, I guess we are lucky at that."

Shotton's Dodgers never looked better than they did yesterday, at that. They were smooth, aggressive and positively spectacular in their 6-0 triumph over the Redbirds.

Don Newcombe overpowered the Cards, giving them only six scattered hits and allowing only one man to reach third.

Everybody in the starting Dodge lineup connected safely. Carl Furillo, Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges hit homers.

In winning the rubber match of the three-game series, the Dodgers moved only one game off the lead.

The American League race tightened, too, when the pace-setting New York Yankees, playing without their ace, Joe DiMaggio, took a terrific 13-2 lacing from the Tigers in Detroit. Thus, the idle Boston Red Sox moved up to within two games of the Yankees.

That's the closest they've been to the top since the first week of the season.

For the second straight night, the third place Cleveland Indians failed to take advantage of a Yankee defeat when they bowed to Washington's seventh place Senators, 3-2.

Boston's third place Braves in the National League eked out a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Lefty Warren Spahn staggered to his 16th victory, which was Boston's fifth in a row.

Boston and St. Louis in the American, and Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the National, were idle.

Eddie Dyer

Boston and St. Louis in the American, and Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the National, were idle.

Ray Robinson Wants Shot At Middleweight

Welterweight Champ Flattens Belloise

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—"I want a shot at the middleweight title. I think I've earned it."

Welterweight champion Ray Robinson made the statement last night. It was probably the greatest understatement made in sports all year.

Off his performance he certainly deserves the chance. Whether he'll get it is something else again.

After he cut down socking Steve Belloise in seven rounds at Yankee stadium last night some 28,812 fans were ready to concede him to be the No. 1 middleweight, champion Jake Lamotta notwithstanding.

Iron-chinned Jake and Marcel Cerdan, the former 160-pound boss who met in a return clash for the crown here Sept. 28, were among the bumper throng which saw last night's massacre.

Robinson hit Belloise with every shot in the book. He won every round but the fifth when he was bothered for just two minutes by a desperate, do-or-die attack from the balding, 30-year-old ex-sailor.

Sugar Ray flattened Steve near the need of the seventh with as perfect a left hook to the chin as you'll see in the ring or movies.

Referee Eddie Joseph's count was at five when the bell clanged. Belloise's handlers hauled him to his corner. But Steve was out cold.

Seconds later, Belloise' manager, Eddie Walker, signalled to Joseph that it was all over. Under New York rules it goes into the book as a seven round kayo.

Robinson weighed 153½ and Belloise 158.

Lamotta and Cerdan have said that the victor of their September bout would meet last night's winner. Nothing is in writing.

In becoming the third fighter to ever knock out Belloise, who has had 102 fights, Robinson eliminated the No. 1 contender behind Cerdan.

Lamotta holds a decision over Ray but Robinson beat Jake four other times.

SOFTBALL

The Paper Mill-Liberty Loan game scheduled for Memorial Field tonight has been postponed. Escanaba Steam Laundry will play U. M. Power and Light at Memorial field at 8:45 instead of at Royce park.

Liberty Loans defeated the Merchants 7-2 last night at Royce Park. Liberty Loans, with its pitching and Woods catching, had seven runs, five hits and two errors.

The Merchants with Adams pitching and Schils catching had two runs, six hits and three errors.

Power and Light defeated Harnischfeger T-C, 5-4 at Dock diamond last night. Jack Courneuse was the winning pitcher. Beany Pratt rammed a four-ply swat for the victors.

U. P. Tournament note: C. C. Watson, tournament director, reports that the Gladstone Lions have withdrawn from the U. P. championship tournament in Ishpeming this week, and their place has been taken by Escanaba's Upper Michigan Power and Light.

The Power and Light nine will play its first round game in Ishpeming against the Escanaba P & H. Welders at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Claimants' Transfer upset K of C last night at Memorial Field, 3-1. This win extended Claimants' win streak to 3 games.

Yankee Hurlers Shaky As Tiges Sweep Series

Detroit, Aug. 25 (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees was a very unhappy man yesterday as he saw his ball club absorb a 13-2 pasting at the hands of the Detroit Tigers.

The loss of a ball game was bad enough in itself for the Yankees at this stage of the American league race, but the way they lost yesterday made Ole's Casey pace up and down in his dugout.

Thirteen walks were issued by three Yankee pitchers as the league leaders found their pitching staff still in a very shaky condition.

Those 13 walks caused more grief to Stengel than the Tigers' hitting attack did.

That Detroit offense was paced by Outfielder Vic Wertz who slammed two terrific home runs into the right field stands—one of them a grand slam homer that scored three Tigers who had walked.

Both of Wertz's drives were hit into the teeth of a stiff breeze blowing in from the outfield, but they carried high into the upper deck. They ran Wertz's home run total to 17 and were the second and third he had hit in the two-day series with the Yankees.

Young Art Houtteman, who registered his third straight win of the campaign over the New Yorkers, scattered 10 hits and

Fast Riviera Club Invades Esky Sunday

White Birch To Take On Milwaukee Nine

Ramazzini's Riviera softball club of Milwaukee winds up a tour of the Middle West here Sunday night when it meets White Birch at Memorial Field in a game played for the benefit of junior softball. People's Bar clashes with the Merchants in the preliminary at 7:15 in an American league contest.

The Milwaukee team opened its current swing in Detroit last Tuesday. From there they traveled to Canada for four games. Friday night they play in the Copper Country and then they move to Marquette for a contest on Saturday night. Sunday afternoon they hit Cornucopia and should be here in plenty of time for the 8:45 tilt Sunday night.

Ramazzini's are managed by Peter San Filippo, who has visited Escanaba on two previous occasions—once with the Milwaukee Jets as manager, and once with the Milwaukee Athletics as a player. Pete is bringing along a full team, with two subs and pitchers—Gene Raszewski (32-2), John Sinkwich (19-8), and Jim Chambers for emergency duty only.

Stan Piza will catch, Mose Johns will be on first base, Erv Romowski on second, Jack Fallon on third, and Nick Telich on short. Frank Jelich will start in left field, with Tony Sara in center, and William Werner in right. Raszewski will probably be the starting pitcher.

Manager Roy Naden of White Birch has three pitchers to choose from for initial duty on the mound, Leo Lancer, Elfe Smith, and Franny Lancer. The White Birch catcher is almost certain to be Harry Lancer.

The first game Sunday night should be an interesting affair inasmuch as it brings together two evenly-matched teams in an important league contest. Both People's Bar and the Merchants have lost 15 games and another defeat for either team could mean winding up the season in the cellar.

On the other hand, a victory might mean finishing as high as fifth place in a very strong circuit.

Additional bleachers have been installed at the lighted field and several sections of seats directly in back of home plate will be available for fans who get there early.

Bay De Noc All-Star Tilt In Cooks Sunday

The annual Bay de Noc league all-star game will be played in Cooks at 2:30 this Sunday afternoon.

Four players from each of the other five league teams will compose the all-star aggregation that will oppose the championship Cooks nine, titlists for two years running.

This will be the final game of the season, and a big crowd is expected.

U. S. Tennis Forces Perk Up For Davis Cup

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—Their games razor sharp, Uncle Sam's tennis forces are looking to a sweeping victory over Australia this week-end in the Davis Cup challenge round.

Confidence on the home front has been buoyed by the slashing play of Ted Schroeder and Pancho Gonzales in recent practice sessions. They look unbeatable in singles.

Also the doubles team of Gardnar Mulloy and Billy Talbot are picked up plenty of extra zip since their defeat at the hands of Australia's Frank Sedgman and George Worthington in the national championships.

The draw for tomorrow's opening singles matches was scheduled at 1 p. m. (EST) today.

Ethiopia's royal family claims to have descended from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.

Showdown In Finland Seen

Republic Answers Reds' Challenge

(Editors Note: Just before taking off for Finland where a Communist-inspired strike rages, Mrs. Tufty had an exclusive interview with Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, a long time champion of Finland.)

By ESTHER TUFTY

Washington — The Communist strikes surging in Finland are seen as a test of the postwar strength of Finnish independence. To Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, ranking GOP member of the senator foreign relations committee "it's a showdown on the Communist party line". This admiring friend of Finland said today "it's a pretty dramatic demonstration of Finnish character to stand up to the Communist strikers". If they are successful in wiping up the strike, it will be a significant victory.

World - authority Vandenberg as realistic as the Finns, accepts the "live and let live" Finnish policy towards its too near big Soviet neighbor.

"But is not appeasement" said the senator.

Finland is trying to get along with both the East and the West. Its highly lauded tradition of paying its debts is today paying off in big dividends.

For Finland manages to meet her debt payments on time to Russia, who burdened her with 300 million gold dollars in reparations for eight years.

"Thus robbing the Russians of a major excuse to move in" observes the Michigan senator, adding with a smile, "it's the best modern example that honesty is the best policy".

That debt-paying policy has paid off well with America, too.

The recent easy congressional approval to use the debt payments for an exchange fund for American and Finnish students springs from an appreciative United States.

And this was "better than cancellation of the debt which would have robbed the Finnish integrity of some of its glory" comments the foreign policy leader, who called the idea of cancellation ungracious.

The name, Vandenberg, is revered by many Finnish leaders who remember his stirring appeal at the Paris peace conference for a big reduction of Finnish reparations. But Russia did not yield.

What will Russia do after the back-breaking debt is paid?

"That's day after tomorrow" said the senator.
